David Stallings is the Chair of the firm's Estates and Trusts group. He is an experienced fiduciary advisor possessing the rare combination of transactional and litigation skills that make him an ideal fit for clients who face complex financial and planning issues. David regularly assists private and institutional clients in matters of wealth and tax planning, trust and probate administration, fiduciary guidance, and business succession strategies.

David has extensive experience handling probate estates throughout Maryland. With offices in Baltimore City and Worcester County, David is also able to service clients on both sides of the Chesapeake Bay. In addition, David's litigation background makes him uniquely qualified to handle conflicts that can arise within estates, trusts, and family-owned assets. In that same vein, David assists private individuals and business owners in navigating commercial disputes and other business-related conflicts. He is a valued resource to his corporate clients when company operations, long-term business strategies and personal wealth planning inevitably overlap. David has been Recognized by Martindale-Hubbell® with its highest AV-Preeminent® distinction in Litigation, Business Law and Commercial Law and has been consistently recognized as a Maryland Super Lawyer®. David is an experienced advisor and trial attorney who has handled numerous cases throughout the state and federal courts in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia. His client services have spanned the United States and he is a frequent collaborator with Niles Barton's partner firms in the Law Firm Alliance.
